Sacred Gratitude

As it is said, Back when there was the great flood the Turtle arose from beneath the water, and on its back was all the peoples from different Nations. When the water was ordered by Great Spirit to return to its place the Turtle became Mother Earth. This we should have

Sacred Gratitude. Father Sky was please to see Mother Earth. The Rainbow is the love between them! For this we should have Sacred Gratitude. The first ring on the Turtle's back, green - yellow is for the plants, trees. They're life and give us life its part of the Hoop. For this we have

Sacred Gratitude. The second ring is the red Road of the Generations before us, our ancestors and relatives, the road of peace. The black dots are the spokes of the wheel of different paths, each person has his own path. For this we should have Sacred Gratitude. The third ring, yellow the zia's represent the four directions of the four people of the four winds united together in the sacred hoop to all live together. For this we should have Sacred Gratitude

Also in this ring is the diamond that we go to in the center to receive our vision, the yellow ring and Wolf paw represents the South direction to invoke the Spirit of Trust, Strength, Growth. It's all part of the sacred Hoop of life, for this we have Sacred Gratitude. The purple maze of the fourth ring is the obstacles we've overcome in life that brings us closer to Creator, trials and tribulations are all part of the sacred Hoop of life, there is a way through. For this we should have sacred gratitude.

The center, 7 point star, sign of completion, blue star of the great Spirit, the four races of people all joined together as one in the Creator to complete the circle of life to begin again.
